AGREE TO CONTROL CURRENCIES

PRESIDENT CONTROLS PRODUCTION

WHEAT PROBLEM IS UNRESOLVED

LONDON—An agreement for controlled stabilization of principal currencies in less than a week was expected in important World Economic quarters. The Franco-American rift on this point appeared closing as the French experts, who have seemed restless on Friday over President Roosevelt's disapproval of the first tentative plan, said that they felt differences could be composed.

Oliver M.W. Bergue, executive assistant to Secretary William Woodin of the United States treasury, said prospects remained hopeful. Asked if financial control could be made effective in a week's time, he replied it was likely "in less than that."

WASHINGTON—With France blocked off from consultation, state department officials on Friday prepared to write before the week is out a tentative schedule of war debt conversions with those nations which have made their payments in whole or in part.

The attitude of the Washington government was described as rigidly requiring at least partial payment first and talk afterwards. Nations paying more slowly than the United States of America's willingness to make a new study of their funding agreement and terms destined over the week end.

In contrast France was sharply reminded of her own financial problems and her plea for revision was ignored.

CHICAGO—Producers have agreed to put the oil wells of United States President Roosevelt under a new plan, to sell their produce at prices he establishes and to produce as he orders. A code binding them to this agreement was adopted Saturday at a meeting of representatives of independent and major companies which bring 90 per cent of the country's oil. Under the new system set up to meet requirements of the National Industrial Act, maximum and minimum prices are fixed for each district by the President, a central agency of nine men is created to govern the industry, drilling of new wells is prohibited unless on federal permission, and the flow of oil by importation or from foreign tanks is sharply curtailed. The operators bound themselves also to work their wells on hours for labor and minimum rates of pay set by the President.

LONDON—Four-power discussions for wheat acreage reduction made very little progress at a 30-minute meeting here Monday and the matter was adjourned for a day because of the non-appearance of the Canadian delegates. Dr. Thomas A. Le Breton, Canadian delegate, fortified with new instructions from Buenos Aires, said nothing to hear out discussion and may have been instructed by his home government to promise participation or co-operation in a restriction scheme, but he did indicate his belief that the Danubian and other wheat producing nations of Europe should be drawn into the project. Stanley Bruce of Australia apparently worrying about the political consideration which might be placed upon the restriction scheme, back home, expressed the wish that some other name for the scheme be chosen to avoid the word "restriction" which acreage reduction could be made. He suggested that "acreage control" be preferred.

What's the matter, old boy? asked Jimmie's friend. I've never seen you looking so needy. I've got so ahead at once, remarked Jimmie gloomily. "Nonsense! Those doctors' motto frighten you out of your life like that. It wasn't a doctor. It was a lawyer."

Ladies' Doubles won by Misses Palmer of Elmore and Hemmings of Carbon with Misses J. Landon and I. Landon of Drumheller the runner-up.

As the Drumheller Club has kindly decided to waive their district tournament in favor of Carbon, and only hold their own tournament in September, it is expected that this will be the last District Tennis tournament in this district this year. The four best clubs are in excellent shape to give a high class contest.

The tournament will be held in a big dance on Friday evening, June 30th in the Farmers' Exchange at Carbon, under the auspices of the Carbon Lawn Tennis Club and the Carbon Curling Club.

STUBBS IN PARLIAMENT?

L. St. G. Stubbs is back in politics. It is not a surprise to him, but ten years on the bench would cramp most men's political style. However, the present judge appears to have a different view. When he ran for parliament the other time he was feeling a forlorn hope. This time he is sure of election as possible before the result is declared. Saskatchewan is radical and Mackenzie is one of its most influential constituents. Milton Campbell was able to carry it four times with a progressive tag. And when Louis St. George Stubbs gets into parliament, watch the fireworks. Garland will be made in comparison—Nanton News.

FAREWELL FOR FAIRBAIRNS AT CHURCH FRIDAY

On Friday evening, June 16 the Carbon Ladies' Aid and members of the United Church gathered in the church in the form of a farewell for Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fairbairn, who are leaving Carbon shortly.

During the past few years Mr. Fairbairn has acted as church organist and also as secretary-treasurer of Carbon United Church and in appreciation of his services this gathering was held.

Rev. Wm. McNeill acted as chairman of the gathering which opened with community singing. Mrs. Fairbairn then sang, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson at the organ.

A contest was then held and following this in behalf of the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Sam Penson presented Mrs. Fairbairn with a silver service set. Mrs. Fairbairn gave a fitting reply.

On behalf of the Carbon United Church Mr. S. W. Wright presented Mr. Fairbairn with a set of gold cuff links in appreciation of his services during his nine years of residence in the community.

L. B. Hart addressed the gathering for a short time.

Rev. Wm. McNeill then addressed the people and spoke of Mr. Fairbairn's untiring efforts in church work and thanked him for the time and devotion he gave to work pertaining to the church.

Following the evening's program a delicious repast was served by the Carbon Ladies' Aid and the gathering was brought to a close.

All the Ear Marks of a Mother Goose Short Story

Senial to a joke "hold-up" of a poker game in a Swallow cafe on May 7, two women were fined $5 and costs recently at Carbon on charges laid under the Offensive Weapons Act.

The men "held up" reported the occurrence to Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Carbon and investigation has been going on since although it does not seem for a time when else unfolded. It was revived when rumors started that the hold-up was faked.

The "Ten O'Clock Game" (Strip Poker)? Mr. T. C. T. Swallow, hotelkeeper, M. P. Jones, George and John Gibson, and Y. K. K. Chinese proprietor of the Rex Cafe, were enjoying a game of cards in the cafe on May 7.

Enter The Band!
Suddenly a masked figure entered and pointed a revolver at them. The bandit commanded the men to "sit back up" and ordered Powers to "take out the money lying on the table. Some silver was dropped on the floor, but the bandit refused to pick it up. He reminded the money, the amount of which was unestimated, but believed by the players to be considerable.

The bandit withdrew, leaving the players fearful of the whereabouts to continue the game.

Constable Always Get Their Man
The Mounted D.P. Strangers of Carbon was notified and the search began. He was called from the start by the lack of clues but rumors later placed him on the track.

Finally T. C. T. confirmed that his wife had engineered the "hold-up" with another woman, Dorothy Provost, as a joke, and that the money had been turned over to him and had been distributed to the players.

Constable Simmons went on with his investigation and found that Mrs. Provost had actually told the men dressed in a man's clothes and wearing a mask. In due course of time he issued summons against the two women charged with the crime.

They were charged with carrying a gun over to a person who did not hold a license and Mrs. Provost with being a licensee and Mrs. Provost with being a licensee and Mrs. Provost with being a licensee.

ALBERTA NEWS

Daily Herd-Testing in Alberta

Values of the co-testing service carried out by the federal Department of Agriculture, in which some co-operation is given by the Provincial Department have been attributed to an increase in the number of tests. A recent survey shows that Alberta has 28 co-testing associations, involving 422 herds and over 100,000 cows, with 3,384 average 7,255 lbs. of milk and 27,428 lbs. of butter per cow per year.

Increase in Homesteads

Opening of new areas for homestead purposes has led to a considerable increase in granting of homestead rights recently, according to a report of the Provincial Land Department. During the month of May a total of 32 homestead entries were made of which 284 were first entries, and 1,200 were second entries. A total of 81 entries were by women seeking homesteads. In April 1932 a total of 2,500 entries were 156 and in May of 1932 the total was 287.

Rural Finance in Good Shape

Rural municipal finances in Alberta are in good shape, according to a report by the provincial treasurer, Mr. R. G. Beld, Minister of Municipal Affairs, who has been looking into the financial record of the rural municipalities. Collections have been maintained at a surprisingly marked degree. Less than $10,000 was the total bonded indebtedness of the rural municipalities as at December 31st last.

Outstanding bank loans were about $100,000, with assets nearly as high. Uncollected taxes and other receivables assets.

The revenue collectable by the Department of Municipal Affairs for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1932, exceeded the estimated receipts for that year and also for the year before, while there was a saving in departmental expenditure of some $19,000.

The Prosecution

Arranged before Justice of the Peace C.H. Hawkins of Carbon, the two women pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs, which they paid. The justice strongly censured the women.

Justice Hawkins' Reprimand—The End
"Under the circumstances, with five men being held up, something serious might have happened if they had attempted to grapple with you," he stated.

"An armed hold-up with a fully loaded revolver being used, is a serious crime, and the men at the time had no way of knowing that it was anything else."

World's Future At Stake

The World Economic Conference now meeting in London constitutes what is probably the greatest assemblage of nations ever convened in the history of the world. In his opening address, Premier Ramsay MacDonald declared: "There is greater authority gathered in this hall than has perhaps ever been brought under one roof in the world's history."

Sixty-seven nations are represented in this momentous conference, or a larger number of separate national units than most people had knowledge existed. But it is not alone the size of the gathering that makes it outstanding in importance among all great world economic conferences; rather it is the fact that, for the first time since the Great War, it is composed of Government plenipotentiaries with the power to act.

As one well known economic authority points out, there have been many economic conferences in the past ten years, but they were composed of experts who were called upon merely to advise, but without authority to commit their Governments. The present conference is quite different; it is made up of representatives of the Governments of all nations, clothed with authority to reach definite agreements, thereby committing those Governments to exert their power and authority to secure ratification of such agreements by their various legislative bodies. There is, therefore, hope that definite action will result.

Whether such action does result depends, says the economic authority already quoted, upon the answer to a fundamental question. Will the Governments really turn their backs on the ideal of national self-sufficiency, and try to rebuild prosperity on a basis of interdependence and mutual benefit in international trade, even though that may involve a modification of their present national policies? If so, then there is no reason why the Conference should not be a great success. But, if not, there is little hope of preventing a drift into even greater depression, the ultimate outcome of which no man can foresee.

This is the crux of the whole matter, and discussing it in his opening address, Premier Ramsay MacDonald further said: "Have we come to deliberate and decide as though our respective nations were isolated units in the world? Then we shall fail and the world which looks upon us today with expectations will be disappointed. It is not enough to have the power of man so to use the vast resources of the world as to insure the material progress of civilization."

And His Majesty the King in opening the conference sounded the keynote when in a stirring appeal he said: "In the face of a crisis which all realize and acknowledge, I appeal to you all to co-operate for the sake of the ultimate good of the whole world. It cannot be beyond the powers of man so to use the vast resources of the world as to insure the material progress of civilization."

Surely it is inconceivable that the leading statesmen of the world, men clothed with all the responsibilities of government and whose very positions have made them fully cognizant of the underlying and fundamental causes of the world's present economic sickness, will be so nationally selfish as to neglect of their own and their countries' responsibilities to the world at large, as to take such irreconcilable attitudes that the success of the conference will be wrecked.

President Roosevelt in his stirring pre-conference appeal to the sovereign heads of all nations stressed the terrible responsibility that would rest on any nation, or group of nations, which stood out against the rest of the world in their insistence upon narrow nationalistic and pure selfish policies. He realized, as Premier Ramsay MacDonald realizes, and as all sane and sensible people must realize, that a purely national economic policy in this modern world is one which by impoverishing others, impoverishes itself, and that those who pursue it. No nation can permanently enrich itself at the expense of others. Mutual enrichment is a condition of individual enrichment.

To quote Premier Ramsay MacDonald once again: "Nationalism in the sphere of politics may be essential to human freedom, self-sufficient nationalism in economics is the death knell of advancing prosperity. The nearer we can make the world an economic unit the better will it be for each nation. In any event, international co-operation is our best way to national recovery and the nation which looks after itself in an international frame of mind will not only lead the world in enlightenment but in well-being."

Narrow nationalism must go. If it does not, the very nations which persist in it will themselves go—down in the crash and debacle of a destroyed civilization. The present World Economic Conference is a turning point in the life of the present generation. The hope and prayer of the teeming masses of the world's population is that their leaders will rise to the occasion, and courageously and energetically take the right road.

New Canadians

Brown Root Rot

Education Necessary In Order That They Should Know Something About Canada

It is too bad the government doesn't look into this matter. When you make application for naturalization papers, they should give you some literature so that you would know something about Canada. Judge R. A. G. Ouellet, hearing applications for naturalization in district court, made this observation. He regretted that something was not being done to help the new Canadians secure their citizenship papers.

London will start its slum clearance shortly.

Bankruptcies in Egypt number about one-third those of a year ago.

Disease Affects Cows In Alberta and Saskatchewan Areas

Brown root rot has been observed on sweet clover, alfalfa and common clover growing in the southern and central parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan. It was first reported as Prince Albert in the latter province, and Albion and Beaverdale in Alberta. The fungus is native and apparently abundant in the cultivated black soils of the prairie area mentioned. The disease has not been reported elsewhere in the province, or in foreign countries. Dominion Laboratory, Edmonton.

Roviet heads will send out at least 15 expeditions to backward areas in Russia to collect data from which alphabets will be prepared.

Freight Rate On Butter

Made By Western Provinces For Better Consideration

Joint action on the part of the Provincial dairy associations of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will likely be taken shortly to obtain a reduction in the freight rate on butter shipments from the prairie to Vancouver and Eastern Canada.

The move follows upon the rejection by the board of railway commissioners of an application for a reduction in the freight rate on butter shipments from the prairie to Vancouver and to eastern Canada. Freight rates on butter are the same now as they were when the product was selling for 10 cents per pound.

Saskatchewan dairy representatives have already communicated with officials of the two sister provinces with a view to holding a meeting and planning a joint appeal to the board of railway commissioners for a re-hearing of the case.

FAT MAN LOSES 63 lbs.

Kruschen and Walking Overweight men who want to lose a few pounds can have the benefit of this man's experience. He gives them for publication.

"I have lost twelve months I have gained my weight from 140 to 164 lbs. By taking a dose of Kruschen Salts every morning for six months, I have lost 63 lbs. I am now 101 lbs. This remarkable achievement is due to the fact that I am now a man who is not a fat man. I can take fat with Kruschen Salts if you will take one-half teaspoonful of water every morning before breakfast, modify your diet, and exercise regularly."

While you are using fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ability to do more work. It will hold you any more—you'll want to be up and going. You'll sleep like a top. You'll lose fat, and probably live years longer."

Takes Opposite View

French Academy - Thinks Ship Should Be Called "He"

Trespassing on the domain of the Académie Française, the Académie de Marine has ventured to tackle a grammatical problem. It relates to the much-debated question of the sex of ships, writes the Paris correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph.

In England, where people do not seem to worry about the gender of inanimate objects, it is nevertheless firmly established that ships have a right to the feminine pronoun. The French, who are much too logical to indulge in such personifications, take the opposite view on the ground that the word "navire" means ship, "navire," "vaisseau," "bâtiment" are masculine.

But, while it may be perfectly satisfactory to talk about "le navire," it sounds very odd to speak of "le Normandie" or "le République" when a vessel happens to have a feminine noun for a name.

The Académie de Marine therefore demands that the present practice of placing feminine nouns in parentheses in order that "outrages against grammar, good sense and euphony" may be avoided.

Dick Turpin's Coat

Money and Jewels Found Recently In Lining Of Old Garment

Money and jewelry have been found in the lining of a plum-colored velvet coat which belonged to Dick Turpin, the famous highwayman.

The coat was recently bought by Mr. Rutter, of Cambridge, along with the coat, pistols and other items which Turpin left at the Three Tuns Inn, Cambridge, on Jan. 12, 1739, when he escaped from the Newgate runners. He never claimed the coat, and it was hung at York on April 10 of the same year, and they passed to an old dealer in the great-grand-grandson at Cardiff Mr. Rutter bought for £50.

While Mr. Rutter was carrying the coat, a George I. halfpenny dated 1717, fell from the lining. Then the other articles were found, comprising: six silver coins, two copper coins, a gold ring, two silver rings, and a pair of silver-gilt earrings.

Grows Larger In Canada

A new record for Loch Leven trout in Canada was established recently with the taking of one weighing 10 pounds 2 ounces in the City Press Hills area, Saskatchewan, a weight several times that of the average for the species in Scotland, its original home.

Statistics and experience of the best Canadian farmers show that crop yields in Canada are, generally speaking very much below the possible maximum.

Many People Would Suffer If Prices Unduly Increased

The United States and Europe are trying to combine so as to raise prices all around. If wheat were $10 per bushel and everything else up in proportion, would the world be in any better position than it is now? It would be $10 per bushel and everything else priced in proportion. If a man should die at seventy years of age and leave a wife fifty years of age with an income of $500 a year could she get along when when increased prices for necessities came upon her?

The widows, and men who have retired because of age, because of sickness, women who have saved enough to live modestly, the great array of children who are unfit for work, etc. The rise in price of labour might help the workman, the increase in the price of steel might help the makers of steel and their puddlers, but in going all around the social circle it would crush perhaps as many as it would lift it. This is especially true of country villages and towns, where there are more people living on small incomes in proportion to population than in larger places. If we talk of a national fund to help these people with small incomes, we complete the circle and arrive at the very place from which we started. We might just as well leave things as they are and let old supply and demand do the regulating of prices.—Port Roma News.

Wild Cattle In England

Unique Herd Maintained On One Of Oldest Estates

It may surprise many people to know that there are wild cattle in England, yet there is an authentic herd, not running wild, but living on the estate of one of England's oldest peers, the Earl of Tankerville, Northumberland.

For centuries these animals have been their habitat on the Earls' wooded domain of 700 acres, which is so stoutly enclosed by a stone wall that the breed has remained pure for upwards of five hundred years. There are just 44 of them, but as it costs quite a sum to feed and care for them without producing any return, the Earls have been obliged to ask for some assistance in their maintenance. The Zoological Society has come forward, and the preservation of this unique herd is assured.

These cattle are pure white with red muzzles, and black tips to their upward lifted horns. They are smaller than ordinary cows, extremely shy despite the fact that nobody ever fears to touch them, and are dangerous to strangers.

It is said they are descendants of the aurochs, primitive wild oxen, which were hunted in England by Roman soldiers when the Caesars held sway.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

French Eat Less Bread

Bread-eating capacity of the French is steadily declining, says Edmond Chaix, president of the Touring Club of France. Once the world's champion bread-eaters, the French daily per capita consumption of two pounds, the modern Frenchman consumes but one pound ten ounces. Mr. Chaix blames the decline on the war, during which, he says, his countrymen became tired of poor quality bread.

A man never gives much thought to the ups and downs of life until he strikes the down.

Wager Was Easily Won

New York Times Outwitted By Young Club Man

In the course of an argument among some of the younger members of the University Club, one of the group made an generalization that writing poetry was easy and that he, although God knows, no poet, could write a poem and get it printed. In support of his claim he pointed to the New York Times. He had cash that said he had. Money to be won by a wager bobbed up at once. Then, with a little effort he wrote a poem—anyway, he wrote eight lines that had some rhyme. The incorrigible member came to the paper's book section, asking if some reader could give the last four lines of the poem. The Times ran that. He immediately replied, signing A.B.C., giving X.Y.Z. the last four lines of the poem. The Times, never suspecting, ran that. Then, after some mild grumbling about instant publication, he drew down his bet.—New Yorker.

Have Helped Greatly

Many newspapers have drawn the contrast and commented on the talk about there being a depression while at the same time picture shows are crowded. Picture shows have been one of the valuable things of the depression era, giving the people a chance to direct their minds and thoughts to something other than themselves and their troubles.

Power Of Imagination

"I'm sure yelled a burglar when police cornered him in a New York grocery store. Amazed, the policeman, who had not fired a shot, watched him slump to the floor with what looked like blood covering his face. Drawing nearer, they gawped. The blood was the yolk of an egg which had fallen on his head from a shelf."

May Not Affect Earth

Dr. Charles Abbot, an American astronomer, predicts that the sun will be cooler for the next two years. This does not necessarily mean that the earth will have two cool years, as the temperature of the earth is affected by many influences besides solar radiation.

An engineer in Poland has invented a device for an anti-aircraft gun which will hit a machine at 12,000 feet.

Ten Thousand-Foot Tower

French Engineer Proposes To Erect Marvel In Paris

An amazing hollow concrete tower nearly half a mile high, with a spiral motor road leading to a vast superstructure consisting of a garage for 400 cars, a dancing pavilion, a 1,000-seat restaurant, sun-parlor, weather office, and finally a tall slim aerial observatory.

This is the breath-taking project of a famous French structural engineer, M. Eugene Freyssinet. He proposes this skyscraper marvel, which would completely dwarf the present Eiffel Tower, as an attraction for the world's exposition to be held in Paris in 1937.

Visitors would be able to drive their own cars to the clouds for lunch or dinner. It would be the only means of ascent or descent, for no lifts would be installed.

And M. Freyssinet is ready to build the tower up to a height of 10,000 feet, or nearly two miles, if the world's exposition will finance it.

He estimates the cost at about two million dollars. "Don't you think it will be marvellous on a hot day to jump into a motor car and drive up into the clouds, from where you will have a magnificent panorama of the entire Paris region?" he said.

First Canadian Movie

Filmed Under Direction Of Canadian Social Hygiene Council

The first Canadian motion picture produced in Hollywood and the first Hollywood picture to have a premiere in Canada has been placed in circulation. It is "Damaged Lives," the problem play, filmed under direction of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council.

In its first week in Toronto it attracted 25,000 persons. The picture soon will be shown throughout the British Empire. It has been booked for screening in England under sponsorship of the ministry of Health. Its producers regard the film as probably the most extensive piece of public health education ever undertaken by means of talking motion pictures.

Easily Misplaced

A family in Paradise, California, were at breakfast the other morning when they noticed a grown-up African ape standing in the window of The Associated Press news item said that the family forgot breakfast. Some people allow anything to distract their attention.

Some people can't see what pleasure those who mind their own business find in living.
